

Dear FCC Folks: I am very concerned hearing that Sinclair Broadcasting is forcing their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. It is not clear to me how this serves the public interest, on behalf of which these stations are licensed. It is not clear to me how this serves our democracy, priveleging one voice over another. It is not clear to me how this serves journalistic standards, making no attempt at balance or objectivity.

It is certainly a case study in what problems there are with our current system of media ownership, and why that system needs to be reversed.

Sincerely,

Craig Kois.
Loyola University Chicago.